

THE PEACH BASKET

Regulated container size in tree-fruit agriculture translated, fixed, and repeated in signature with a waxed floor of the designated width and length against which the players reflect themselves and the object of play. The precise measure and division of space regularized to a discreet set, abiding the methodology of bringing into production arable land. The space, a carrier of time in its most conspicuously nuanced articulation, becoming a standard iteration of municipalities and institutions of learning. In its standby state, the aura of preparedness affords for an inversion in the perceived capture of time such that grain can be found in the surface, removing from the opacity of what would otherwise be still.

THE MOLLUSC

A rasping course, aligned with its orthogonal enclosure as a specimen removed from the biotic and abiotic topography of its ancestral environment. A low crown of red attends the anterior, showing up anemic in the metal halide. The elegance of its approach is a production of the space and its appliance. From its making-clean is generated a picture of the environment, a knowing-by-sensation, a mouth-feel of world.

POZZO & LUCKY

The thermostat, a self-balancing interchange between master and slave. The co-comprising halves of a constant presence in warm life and warm living entwined in the mutual agony of existence. Pozzo's refrain, "I am impertinent" is a mood announced in the gills of the radiator. What is asking to be overlooked is necessarily visible under the condition of inversion. The Earth's mantle is brought into every nearness, the comprising of the present laid bare in the thickening approach of corrosion.

AURATIC BLOOM

The issuing forth of oriented refractory surfaces, their gradual emergence resembling the secretion of calcium from the follicle; the image of a reflector, a sand lens that grows because of its continuous harvest. Its interfunctioning with the mollusc obtaining from the mutual exclusion of each other's captivity. Doubly blind and interlocking in their respective courses, it and the mollusc are nutritionally supported by each others castings and emissions. The basic module of a community of associates.

OPERATIONAL CYCLE

A fleeting chance afforded by windows that appear because of atmospheric effects and timing; fast-moving and brief- a short display for early pollinators, an interdependent community at the margin of thresholds of temperature and moisture, the first to emerge from dormancy, indicate presence or "behave," and return to dormant-being as the rest of everything slowly begins the longer course of holding-forth until the wide edge of the next expanse is in view. The perimeter along which two or more membranes touch, their moment of identical topography, their shared state across the spectra of life and non-life.
